

Libros en Fuego

Libros en Fuego represent a break from the musical status quo. Priding themselves on bringing the audience a cornucopia of musical styles, this Santa Cruz band also attempts to make a complete audio visual experience that is nothing short of musical theater. Bringing a pleasing blend of warm horns, smooth bass, and heavy drum grooves, Libros en Fuego truly offers something that few other bands ever could.

Having already played clubs across the Monterey Peninsula including The Catalyst and Monterey Live, Libros en Fuego will be going on the road through central California in 2009 to bring their sound to as many new places as possible. They have also been featured on both KPIG and KZSC radio where DJ Oy-Dog described them as "Zappa-esque" and said "Wow, [they] sound like my kinda guys. Libros En Fuego [are] really cool." Nobody will ever know what to expect next from Libros en Fuego.
